LOCAL PIZZERIA NAMED TO
PIZZA TODAY® MAGAZINE'S HOT 100 LIST
Old Town Pizza one of America's top-grossing pizzerias

Auburn, Ca., (Oct. 1, 2015) — A locally owned, independent pizza shop is among the nation's best-performing pizzerias, according to Pizza Today magazine, the leading publication of the $42 billion pizza industry. The magazine, which annually ranks the largest independent operations in the U.S. based on sales, this month named Old Town Pizza to its prestigious Hot 100 list.

Based in Auburn, Ca., Old Town Pizza has 2 stores and reports annual sales in excess of $3 million. Old Town Pizza is ranked No. 78 on the magazine's Hot 100 list.

“Making our list is quite an accomplishment,” said Pizza Today Editor-in-Chief Jeremy White. “Each year our readers await the release of the Hot 100 list anxiously. Making it here isn't easy — it's a testament to many factors such as great food and service, solid marketing and old-fashioned hard work. The pizzerias on our Hot 100 list have managed to really set themselves apart from the competition.”

Founded in 1999, Old Town Pizza is operated by the extended Browning Family. For more information, visit www.otpizza.net. To view Pizza Today's entire Hot 100 Independent Pizzerias list, visit <http://www.pizzatoday.com/departments/features/2015-hot-100-independent-pizzerias/> .
